SALES CONDUCTED BY MR. F. A. CHAPMAN AND MR. A. N. BADE
CAREL F. L. DE WILD

The present sale brings before the public the private collection and furnishings of the late Carel F. L. de Wild. The paintings, as well as the furniture, reflect the personality of this great and modest connoisseur. Mr. de Wild was of Dutch origin. He was born on August 26, 1870 at Kessel, Holland. His paintings are mainly Dutch masters, such as would delight the eye of a man who likes to live with charming and simple works as a relaxation from the day's task of restoring and expertizing great and important works, so valuable that they are almost as important as an investment of capital as they are as works of art. The furniture, partly Dutch, of the 17th and 18th centuries, creates that atmosphere of solid ease so characteristic of Holland, and forms at the same time a perfect setting for the paintings.

Mr. de Wild was a simple man who knew his business thoroughly. He studied first at The Hague; then, in 1894, he went to Vienna, where he continued his studies at the Imperial and Royal Museums. Later on, he worked under the well-known Professor Hauser of the Berlin Museum. But Mr. de Wild was not only an expert restorer of old masters who knew all the fine points of the technique and the life of an old painting. He was also a creative artist of great merit. He won a gold medal for an exhibition of his work at the World's Fair of St. Louis in 1904. One of these paintings was later purchased by the Museum in Dordrecht, Holland. From 1905 to 1916, Mr. de Wild was associated with the firms of Goupil in Paris and Knoedler of New York. In 1916 he left the firm of Knoedler and had his studio at 753 Fifth Avenue.

Mr. de Wild built his reputation on knowledge and thoroughness, not on publicity. His name very rarely appeared in the papers when an important painting stirred the casual interest of the reporters or the public, but the ten great collectors who in this country built up collections of masterpieces equaling in quality those of the great museums of Europe, knew that he was their best counsellor. The late J. P. Morgan, the late H. C. Frick and Mr. Joseph E. Widener may be mentioned, among others.

In 1921, Mr. de Wild was entrusted with a professorship at the University of Pennsylvania for instruction in the “Science of Painting and the Care, Preservation and Restoration of Paintings”. It was a tragic destiny that he was never able to enjoy this honor. After two lectures he had to give up his teaching, owing to the disease that had undermined his health and to which he finally succumbed in Larchmont, New York, on May 12, 1922. Those who came in contact with Mr. de Wild will not forget his simplicity, his integrity and thorough knowledge, and his personal grace and charm.
